Victory Gardening -- 1944

In 1943 America's Victory Gardeners, twenty millions of them, performed a prodigious and patriotic service to the country in the enormous amount of vegetables produced in home gardens. The need for growing a portion of your own food is as great, if not greater, than was the need last year.

If you were a novice at vegetable growing, your experience has qualified you to do a better job this year. You will know better the varieties that succeeded in your garden, the quantity to plant to supply your table and have a surplus for canning.

If you were not a Victory Gardener last year, remember that the need for food crops is greater than in 1943, and we are asked to increase the number of Victory Gardens throughout the country. If you did not have a garden last season, locate a small plot and plan to join the millions who will garden for Victory in 1944.

We have planned to have a sufficient amount of seed of the standard varieties of vegetables, thousands of vegetable plants are being grown, ample supplies of fertilizers will be on hand when needed and our insecticide department can supply your every need to combat insects and plant diseases. Our advice and help in your selection is yours for the asking. Buy wisely, waste not and hoe your way to health and Victory.

Hardy Perennial Flower Seeds

Seeds of most hardy perennials and biennials should be sown in well prepared ground or frames in May, June, or July, and the seedlings transplanted to permanent locations when large enough to handle properly. These seedlings do not flower until the succeeding year after sowing.

Among many other reliable kinds of perennial flower seeds we offer the following, all easily grown.

ColumbineShasta Daisy*Delphinium in varietyCanterbury Bells*Hollyhock*Clove Pinks (Dianthus)Lupine*Foxglove*Sweet William*Painted Daisy
